

In the Realm of Women

—BY PENLOPE—

Mrs. David Bowman is a bridge house on Saturday night.

Mrs. Harry Cooper is entertaining at luncheon on Thursday.

Mr. Gunn is expected to return from the east in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Brown have returned to Calgary after spending a few days here.

Mrs. Graham gave a large "at home" for Mrs. Hardly while she was in Calgary.

Miss Anna Hanson, lady, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. B. Elliot, Edmonton, today.

Mr. and Mrs. D. MacKenzie are receiving congratulations on the arrival of their son.

Miss Irma Blackett leaves next week for Toronto to continue her studies at Westmount.

Miss Gault, who is a much-feted visitor, leaves for Winnipeg next Monday.

Mrs. French has left for Montreal by the train to continue her journey.

Miss Marie Cook, M.B., P.M., has taken a trip to Long Beach, Cal., to be absent for three months.

Master Harry Morris leaves on Wednesday evening for Trinity College, Port Hope.

Mr. Arnold MacArthur returns on Wednesday night to Trinity College, Port Hope.

Mrs. Price-Turner, a dinner hostess on Thursday night—Mrs. MacArthur to be the guest of honor.

Mrs. Hall Morgan left for Toronto, Monday to be absent for some weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilpin entertained at Jolly dance Monday night in honor of Miss Irma Blackett.

Mrs. Heath Macdonald, corner of King's Road and Connaught Drive, will receive on Thursday afternoon for the first time since her marriage.

Miss Ethel Goodwin, who will be remembered by many Edmontonians as having visited here on a former occasion, arrives in town on Thursday to be the guest of Mrs. Pardee.

Mrs. Hardly, mother-in-law and little Miss Leah, have returned home from Calgary, where they spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Graham. They also spent a few days with Senator and Mrs. Longhead.

Mr. Frank Wright, who has been in town on business in connection with the Symphony concert which comes up from Calgary in the near future, expects to leave for that city tonight. While in town Mr. Wright was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Condit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Short, were expected to return home on Wednesday, from Chicago, but owing to a wire from the east to the effect that one of Mr. Short's brothers had been seriously hurt, they will in all probability visit Ontario before coming home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gowan entertained at a jolly little dinner party Monday in honor of Miss Irma Blackett, who is home on her holiday. The hostess wore black velvet with white shirt, bodice. A vase of yellow tulips and white carnations on a Florentine lace centre piece.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs.

DRAWN BY MR. STANTIA. THE WORLD-FAMOUS ARTIST OF THE SPHINX. Mrs. M. Stantia's work has always been noted for its wonderful accuracy and wealth of detail. It is well-nigh incredible. This scene was taken from a beautiful picture "Naxos," a fantastic Egyptian style, shown at one of the prominent London theatres.

THE BIRD-MOUTH "BONNET" BEATS THE LIPS GEMMED—The above picture shows Miss Clara Irwin, who was Vice in the "Everywoman" Club, dressed in "Come Over Here," and is the principal boy in "Old King Cole."—She is wearing a head-dress suggesting in shape a lady's bonnet, with its gemmed ornaments so arranged that they are strong across the lips.

Lane York, and Mrs. T. J. McNamara, Miss Bernice and Irma Blackett, Miss Ida Day, Mr. Geo. Day, Mr. M. Hall, Mr. Wm. H. Blackett.

Mrs. Percy Hardly's charming home was the rendezvous of hosts of callers who dropped in to chat with her and to say an revoir to Mrs. French.

Mrs. Hardly was smartly dressed in violet, entire the bodice composed of burnt orange—diamonds of striped black and white—Edwin swathing it in a robe.

Mrs. French was becoming plain, but brown crepe, creation with touches of black.

The hostess poured her own tea. A big blazing fire in the grate was very cheerful.

Many old-timers, as well as recent Edmontonians, will mark with regret the departure of Mother Grudge from her home for Lethbridge, where she will in future "begetional." Her Mother Board came to Edmonton from "Old Kildare" twenty-five years ago, and has since been engaged in educational work at the P.E.J. Convent here.

For a long time Mother Grudge was engaged in St. Joseph's Church, at that she will be missed by more than a passing few. Many of her former pupils are now grown-up residents of Edmonton.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smeaton, Twenty-fifth street, recently, when their little daughters, Daisy and Sybil, received a goodly number of juvenile guests to celebrate the birthday of their much-esteemed friend, Mr. G. A. Champet. A merry time was spent in games and singing.

A further feature of the evening was a lantern exhibition of interesting and amusing pictures. Later on, much merriment was caused by the arrival of a Santa Claus, who after introducing himself, distributed bags of paper, each bearing a number, the holder of each paper having then to find around the room a present with a corresponding number on it. The Rev. C. W. McKim, Mr. and Mrs. Charters (of today) and Mrs. E. H. Wade, assisted in entertaining the young folks.

The following were present: Helen Smeaton, Bernice Hegler, Nellie and Mary Starr, Margaret McMillan, Trina Tilley, Velma Kirk, Mildred Smeaton, Margaret and Norma Macneil, Mary and Kathleen McNeil, Nora Donahue, Daphne Frith, John Donahue, and Teddie Charters.

Receptions

Mrs. Howard Douglas will not receive on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. E. Cox, 111 McKay street, will not receive on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. McLaughlin, Knox manse, will not receive on the second Thursday, nor again this season.

CUPID'S COURT

John Cupid's secrets "will out" of these brought to light after six days' mystery, has caused no little interest among many Edmontonians.

On New Year's day at six o'clock in the evening in the Presbytery chapel, Mrs. E. McLaughlin, Knox manse, was engaged in St. Joseph's Church, at that she will be missed by more than a passing few. Many of her former pupils are now grown-up residents of Edmonton.

Thirteen of Crew of Ill-fated Ship Are Now Accounted For

Five More Turned up, Having Been Drugged Out of Sea at Risk of Rescuers' Lives—Six Were Drowned When One Boat Capized

By Bulletin Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Thirteen survivors were accounted for tonight out of the thirty-eight men who were aboard the tank steamer Oklahoma when she broke in two last Sunday in a storm off Harpoon. Another story of heroic rescue was written to the tale told of the first hours of the disaster. Until the fourth liner Gregory, fresh from a voyage 2,000 miles up the Amazon steamed into port today the eight men taken off the Oklahoma steamer Bavarra were believed to be the only ones saved. But the Gregory had five more of the shipwrecked crew that her officers had dragged out of the boiling sea at the risk of their own lives. So the Oklahoma's death list stood at twenty-five tonight, and although her owners swept the sea with wireless messages imploring all men to look out for one another, the vessel's boats that might still be afloat, there was little hope that more of the crew would be saved.

Another Lifeline Launched.

What little hope remained was based on the fact that one man brought to port by the Gregory said another lifeboat beside theirs had been launched from the sinking steamer. There was little doubt, however, that this was the last of the crew. The rescue cutter Seneca, with three from bodies under its charge. The other boat which carried the five survivors within reach of the Gregory, contained but one body when it was cast adrift, after the rescue. Of the Oklahoma's crew of thirty-eight, eleven drowned the boat that reached the Gregory, nineteen took to the other boat and eight stayed afloat to be saved by the Bavarra. The larger boat held nothing but been heard since.

Six Drowned, When Capized.

Of the eleven in the small boat six were drowned when the boat capsized nearly a hundred yards away from the side of the liner. The Gregory sighted the Oklahoma's life boat at 1:20 p.m. Sunday. The beleaguered sailors had hoisted a sail which enabled them to keep their craft from being overwhelmed by the gigantic sea. "Keep that sail up," bellowed Captain Aspinwall, as soon as he came within hailing distance. But the shipwrecked men failed to obey. They dropped their sail and their boat, for a rescue he steered was unobscured over. Then, on after the other, the three officers of the Gregory without waiting to throw off their jackets or coats plunged over the side. They were First Officer R. H. Black, Second Officer J. A. Williams, and Third Officer P. D. Roberts, all young Kentuckians, who had a model appearance. They were of great service in the rescue, knew what it meant to be afloat in a life boat, and he tried to himself a bow line. The others took no notice and just said the reality with their lives.

Sailed Struggling Sailors.

After their struggle with sail and to brought him to the ship's side and he held him at the end of a line, the man had it in the group when a greater wave heeled the ship over and when it swung back the man had disappeared. The life boat then righted itself and, as it slowly poked the crew of the Gregory saw a man jammed under the seats. Officer Black wanted to jump in after him, but his captain held him back, for the boat had been so long upside down that the sailor could not possibly have lived. Nothing was seen of the other four members of the boat's crew after the boat capsized.

Recommended for Promotion.

When the agents here of the Booth line which is a British line, sent a report of the rescue to the home office in Liverpool tonight, they recommended Black, Williams, and Roberts for promotion.

John Kenich, local news boy, a lanky Norwegian, said that he and his ten shipmates in the life boat that reached the Gregory saw the other boat lost off from the other side of the tanker. "That boat," he said, "had almost gone as many in her as ours. I don't believe anybody was caught when we watched the other boat sink. It was a speck in the distance, and it seemed to be getting along all right."

Capt. Loring A. Calm, a Boston skipper, formerly in command of the tank steamer Lager and a passenger on the Oklahoma, commanded the other life boat, Kenich said.

From John Kenich's list of the companions gave the list of the names of those in their boat who perished: W. R. Doid, first assistant engineer, who took charge; Walter Haman, second assistant engineer; and John Kenich, a seaman; John Sullivan, a second cook; Antonio Gomez, a Spanish fireman; and eleven members of the crew, whose names he did not know.

ONTARIO PREMIER'S CONDITION STILL IS RELIEVED HOPEFUL

Private Car Chartered to Remove

ORDERS TO REFRAIN FROM EXCITING PATIENT

Although Aware That This Illness
Might Be His Last, Puts Up
Plucky Fight

New York, Jan. 6.—While those in attendance on Sir James Whitney this morning did not minimize the very serious condition the stricken Canadian statesman was in, they admitted that with a man of his advanced age the worst was always to be expected, that the situation was hopeful. Throughout the stages of the illness which finally laid him low, the time limit placed up by a plucky fight. Though amenable at all times to the advice of his medical attendants, Sir James was acquainted with the serious nature of the trouble affecting him and knew early in the stages of this illness might be his last. It had been taken after his wife and those looking after him, that his condition might warrant his removal to Toronto, and a special car was chartered which could be attached to a train and rushed through to his home. This morning the car was still on hand, though no information was forthcoming in the early morning as to whether it would be used today or not.

Canadian residents in New York and American friends of the premier were constant in their inquiries last night and this morning as to his condition. The strictest injunctions have been laid upon those around Sir James to refrain from exciting him in any way. The position of his suite in the Hotel Manhattan is ideal, Sir James' window overlooking a quiet court.

Consultations were held last evening and this morning between Dr. Fyfe, Sir James' own physician, who has been travelling with him, and Dr. Hermann Hulse, the specialist called in when the premier's condition grew cause for alarm on Sunday. While both medical men were extremely optimistic they seemed more hopeful of outcome than they had been.

Milk and eggs have formed the principal ingredient of Sir James' diet since his illness began here two weeks ago, and that yesterday morning he breakfasted upon the lightest and most nourishing of his patient's appetite and strength. Moreover, the attending physician, Dr. Hulse, reports that his charge passed a good day.

It was, indeed, a timely moment when Dr. Fyfe advised the abandonment of the southern trip.

The doctor has told him to rest and to be sleeping regularly. He looks a little thinner and his face is pale, but he is doing his best to save his strength, and he is very brave.

Lady Whitney has been with him most of the time since last Tuesday, when she arrived from Toronto. She has rarely rested.

In addition there are two trained nurses, one of them being on hand all the time. A lady nurse has been instituted by the premier's order to the general office in the retinue of the hotel.

Mayor To Have Private Secretary

Chief Magistrate Entered on the Duties of His Office
Yesterday

(From Evening Edition.)
Mayor McManis entered upon his duties as chief executive of the city yesterday. He accepted the office in the building at 19 avenue, immediately following the business hours which has accompanied the mayor's office, or short stated the mayor's office, after the city clerk had been sworn in.

The new mayor brought with him to his office his own private secretary, Mr. Walker. It is understood that his time shall not be taken up by any of the duties of the city clerk, but that he will be available to every member of the assembly and other persons of similar character, who may seek to see him.

The secretary's business will be, in part, to assist the mayor in the management of his office, and to see that the mayor's time is not wasted by any of the duties of the city clerk.

The subject of his business together was given out as "the city clerk."

The new mayor brought with him to his office his own private secretary, Mr. Walker. It is understood that his time shall not be taken up by any of the duties of the city clerk, but that he will be available to every member of the assembly and other persons of similar character, who may seek to see him.

FIVE OF ILL-FATED CREW RESCUED FROM SEA AFTER BEING ADRIFT SIX HOURS

Steamer Gregory Picks Up Survivors From Small Boat Of Oil Tank
Steamer Oklahoma—First Craft Capsizes at Side of Rescue Ship and Six Men Go to Bottom

New York, Jan. 6.—Five of the missing twenty-seven of the crew of the oil tank steamer Oklahoma, which broke in two on Sunday, were rescued today. They were picked up by the steamer Gregory after being adrift for six hours.

The rescue of these men occurred for the rescue of 17 of the Oklahoma's crew, eight having been rescued by the steamer Georgia and three found dead in a life boat by the Rescué. The five men were brought in today confirm the story that the great tankship parted amidships without warning.

The weather was very stormy and enormous sea breaking around, when the steamer Georgia, which was docked, apparently suspended on two huge waves at several points.

After rescued to decks.
Hull, seaman, was on deck at the time, having just come on watch. The engines were racing and could not be stopped.

The crew of the steamer Georgia, who were taken up by the steamer Gregory, were rescued from the sea. The crew of the steamer Georgia, who were taken up by the steamer Gregory, were rescued from the sea.
